

Dear _____,

With the holidays fast approaching, how do you remember the people who are important to your business?

It's that special time of year when acknowledging your clients, employees and loved ones is so very important. Is there any reason why you wouldn't consider giving personalized gift baskets this holiday season? Would it be important for you to save time, avoid lines and get more for your gift dollar?

Let our Executive Gift Services free up your busy schedule by gift wrapping and delivering to your office at no extra charge. These are some of the most beautiful baskets you have ever seen filled with products that will be appreciated, pampering and leave a lasting impression with your gift dollars.

Our beautifully designed baskets range from $69.00 to $299.00. Or you might consider our great "Thanks a Latte" Mugs wrapped in cellophane and big bow, at just $19.95.

I will be calling to find out if we might be of service and to schedule an appointment to view these special gifts that say to others "you are important and appreciated".

Sincerely,

Executive Gift Service
